

Introduction

Afri is pleased, once again, to organise this 'Education for Liberation' Day in Belvedere College, Dublin. We are also very happy to welcome students from Belfast Royal Academy to be part of this unique event on the theme 'Conflict, Resources and the Environment'.

We start the day with an amazing film presentation entitled 'The Awakening Universe', followed by a contribution from Clare O'Grady Walshe, in which she will facilitate questions and discussion and elaborate the theme of the film. This will be followed by Richard Moore, Director of 'Children in Crossfire' who will tell his extraordinary story of how he, having suffered the consequences of war and violence, then went on to turn this experience into something positive which has benefitted thousands of people around the world.

We are confident that you will not only enjoy this seminar, but also gain much insight into how individuals and groups of people can make a real difference in our world. In conclusion, we want to say a special word of thanks to Meath Justice and Peace Group for their support with this seminar.

Joe Murray

Education for Liberation

Clár

- 10.00 Introduction/ Welcome – Joe Murray
- 10.10 The Awakening Universe – film and presentation by Clare O'GradyWalshe
Questions/Discussion
What you can do – Susan Hensel
- 11.00 Break
- 11.15 Conflict, War and Poverty – Richard Moore
- 12.15 Questions and Discussions
- 1.00 Lunch

